

Inspired by my grandfather Joseph Mesnick. After emigrating in 1914 from Poland, he became a Kosher butcher in Brooklyn, NY. His memory holds a special place in my heart. I remember childhood visits to his butcher shop, the white marble counters, butcher-boards and slicers, the paper-wrapped orders prepared right in front of my eyes. Our philosophy is inspired by proprietors such as my Grandfather.

Enjoy!
Ilan Rosenberg

PHILOSOPHIA

It is our mission to source wines from all over the world and present them to our patrons in the most pristine manner possible. Our wines are stored in a custom-built, climate-controlled, above ground cellar at a constant temperature of 13 degrees Celsius. Wines are offered by the bottle and in pours by the glass and half glass. Because it is of supreme importance that wines from our cellar enter our patrons' glasses in the purest, most unadulterated fashion possible, we take great care to ensure that our bottles remain untouched, unmoved and unaltered by any agent. We strive to not only emulate the wine bars and enotecas of Europe but to surpass them in quality of product and service as well as in range of selection.

The 1920's era, Mediterranean-style building in which we operate was originally constructed to house Jennings' Cleaners and Dyeing Shoppe, which closed its doors in 2004. Rather than raze this aging structure we chose to harness the underlying beauty of its original character by preserving key components of the space such as an entirely intact pressed tin ceiling and an open-air courtyard. To this we added a 40-foot bar made of antiqued white Carrera marble and furnished the space with tables and chairs salvaged from the historic Warwick Hotel, formally located in the Museum District.

Dynamic cheese and charcuterie plates complement our wines. We also offer delectable panini and various small dishes as well as handmade truffles.

When you are here, you are nowhere else. This is a place to escape and to take refuge from any and all things that might negatively affect you. Here you will find peace and solace and the satisfaction of a perfect glass of wine.

Cheers!

SHERRY AKA JEREZ

The fortified wines of Andalucía, Spain, cultivated on chalky white stone, have been made as a meticulous result of blending various barrels of fermented juice for years to achieve a consistent style. The creation of a single glass of sherry is extremely complex and voluminous, but when done properly the result is beautiful. These wines are listed from light and dry to sweet and syrupy.

The Coravin Wine System uses an extremely thin needle to penetrate a cork, then eases a stream of Argon gas into the bottle thus displacing any Oxygen and thereby creating an environment inside the bottle that is essentially untouched by the outside. Wine may be stored using this method for months, perhaps years.

-Please note, due to the high cost and extreme rarity of many of these wines we cannot permit sampling or gratis pours.

Thank you for your understanding and cooperation and please take this opportunity to treat yourself to something truly remarkable.

SPARKLING BY THE BOTTLE

BOTTLE

TRUE CHAMPAGNE

The greatest sparkling wine region in the world, located in Champagne, France, that diligently follows a vigorous routine of production, specifically including a secondary fermentation in the bottle by adding a mixture of yeast and sugar to achieve the finest never ending flurry of bubbles in the glass. These wines have been associated with nobility and celebration for centuries.

BIERKULTUR

We like simplicity and high quality when it comes to the fermented beverages we offer at 13. Beer is made by combining Grain (usually barley), Hops and Water with Yeast. It really doesn't get much simpler than that. Lately, it's become much easier to find quality beer due to the emergence of the craft beer culture. Below is a list of the beers we like best, ranging in style and complexity.
